FSE...an eternal journey in pursuit of wisdom through education

As the majestic Ganges begins with a small drop of water from the Himalayas, the Friday School of Economics (FSE) too beginning with little thoughts, is slowly gathering strength and momentum on vast horizons of academic landscape of human wisdom. It made its beginning in the year 2010 with few enthusiastic students and myself. Those pioneer students have nourished this sapling with their hard-work, patience and strong determination.

FSE is a training a ground for young minds to learn how to apply the bookish knowledge to adapt to harsh realities of the human life in the contemporary world...It teaches students how to open their wings of vision and pragmatism to soar higher in the endless sky of their potential.

FSE is committed to become a thriving nursery for producing scholars of world ranking and making the college as one of the best centres for studying Social Sciences. It is a liberal platform for budding thinkers where students execute all activities of holding sessions on weekly basis with some exceptions. The selection of topics for lectures, talks and discussions is done democratically by its editorial committee of the students.

FSE, above all, is forum for building a vibrant network of thinking beings who aspire for promoting good human values in the society. After all, the very purpose of our knowledge is to improve living conditions for human civilization. It believes in creating a beautiful human society by raising tolerant, wise, compassionate and visionary students for addressing and resolving problems of our beloved country and humanity.

Let's fuse microcosm of our individual lives with macrocosm of life of the universe in order to create a happy, harmonious and peaceful world through humanistic education...
